Bill Schloth, Onesource's CEO and the original founder said, "No matter what stage of life you're in, there's always room to further your knowledge and understand the many resources available to help live better. During my professional career and in my own personal life, I've seen the good and bad play out." He continued, "I appreciate everyone's feedback and support and am pleased to announce our new programs. I encourage all to review what interests you, your community, employees and contact us to attend, host a program, open a new chapter, volunteer your time or services."
